DEDICATION

Ms. Barbara Carter influences every student at Southwestern Randolph with her energetic personality and sincere interest in each of us.

Her interests in Southwestern span not only the academic life, but her help in spear-heading membership drives in PTSA has encouraged participation by students and parents alike. Her enthusiastic shouts at games have spurred our athletic teams on to a victory she desired no less than they themselves.

We all feel deep devotion and love for a lady who will always have a special place in our hearts. It is with these thoughts that we dedicate the 1974-1975 Infinity to Ms. Barbara Carter.

Southwestern works toward Southern Association Accreditation

In November, 1973, our faculty, staff, and student body began working to have Southwestern accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The first phase was a self-study. This involved studying the community and formulating a realistic philosophy and set of objectives which would be in keeping with the needs found. Suggestions came from students, parents, teachers, and administrators.

Next, committees objectively examined and evaluated each departmental area in terms of adherence to the school philosophy and objectives, organization, nature and variety of offerings, teacher preparation, methods and procedures, and results. This enabled us to identify strengths and weaknesses and to plan for improvements where needed. As a part of this departmental evaluation, departmental philosophies and objectives and courses of study were written by the teachers.

Every part of the self-study was written, proofread, typed on stencils, and proofread again. From this voluminous body of material, departmental booklets were prepared to describe our present school program.

Many physical improvements were made: the parking lots were improved; the shop area was rearranged; many areas were painted; new equipment was purchased for every department. We came to learn about the total school program; we saw weaknesses and many strengths we had not recognized before. Most important, the school staff, parents, and students rallied to a common cause.

Booklets prepared, improvements made, we were ready for a visiting committee to either confirm or deny the findings of our self-study. On October 22, 1974, we welcomed these distinguished guests at a dinner served in the school cafeteria. The next day all classrooms were visited, all teachers and staff observed, all facilities were examined. At the end of the school day the staff met with the visiting committee for a preliminary report on their findings. To the pleasure of everyone involved, the reports were very favorable.

Formal reports from the visiting committee were sent to our school in November, 1974. These are to be studied carefully and sent to the accrediting agencies, The Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the North Carolina Commission on Secondary Schools. Final results will be available in the 1975-76 school year.

Principal's Message

The arrival of the "75" edition of INFINITY reminds us that another school year is almost history, another commencement season is with us and another class is about to graduate from Southwestern.

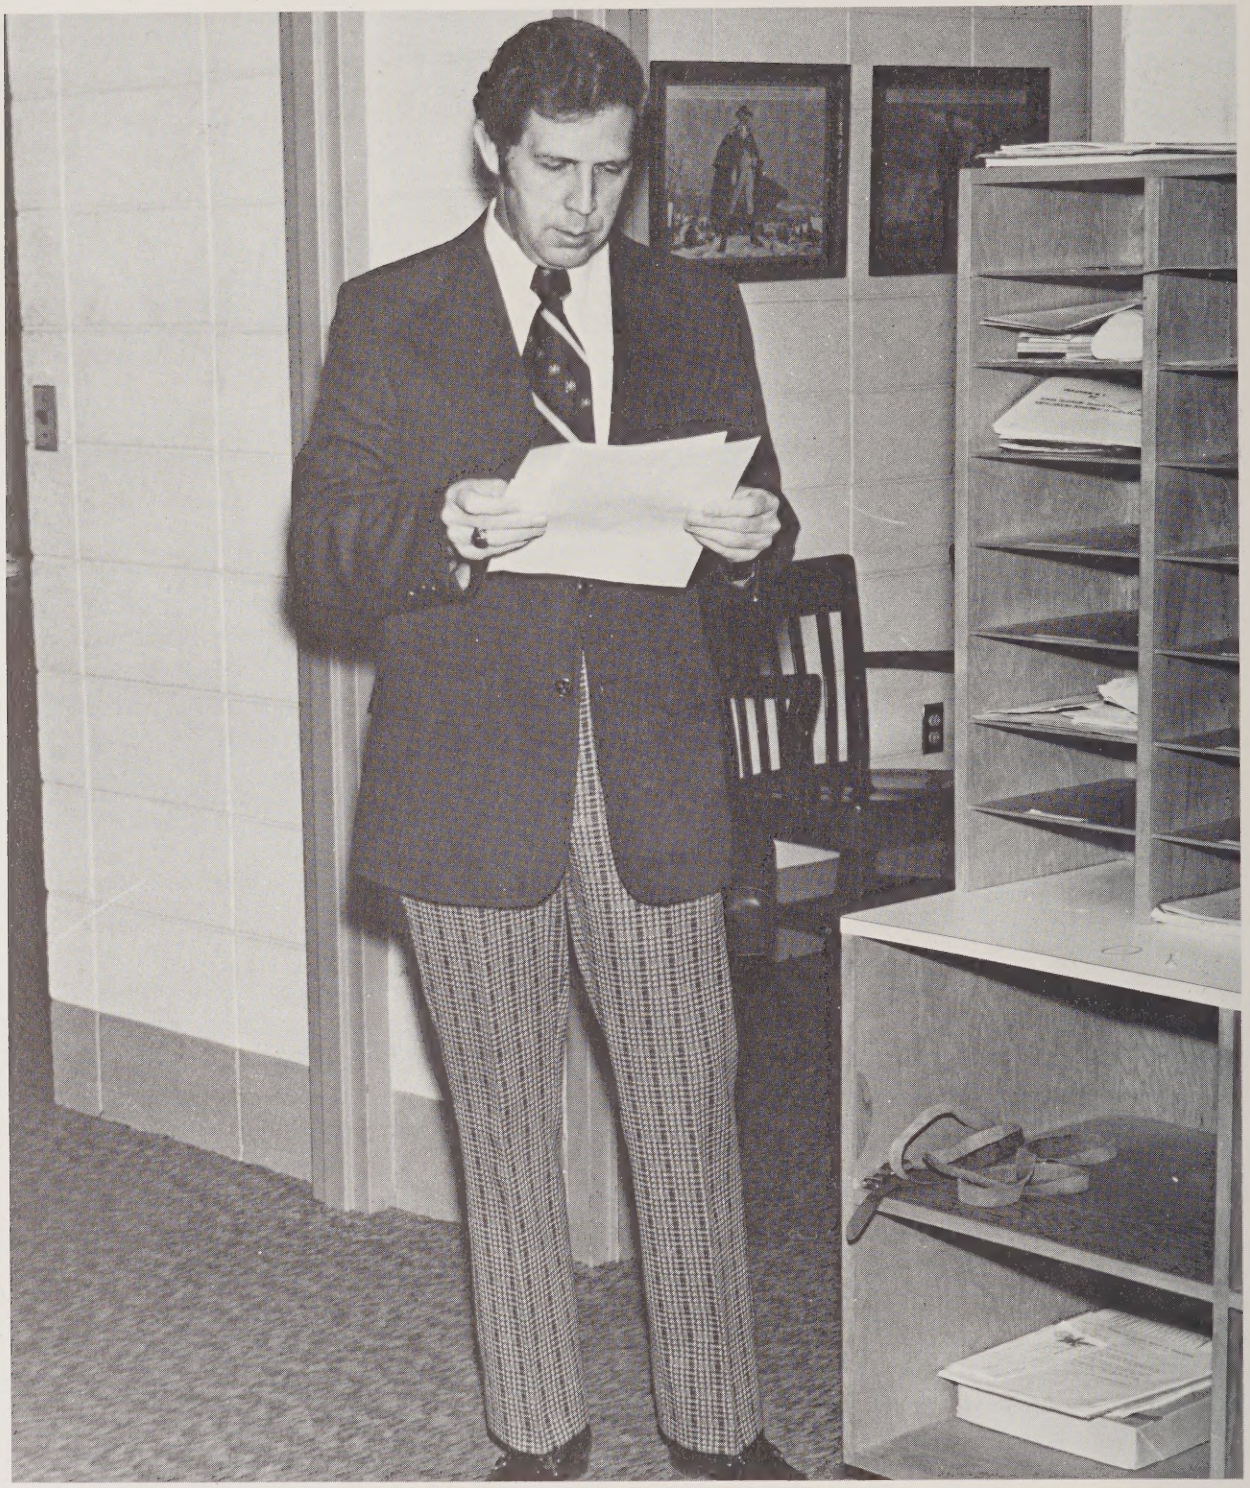
There seems to be something individually significant and unique about each graduating class. The graduating class of 1975 is no exception. This class has a special and personal significance to me. Most of this class and I entered the Randolph County School System together. Twelve years ago you were little "tots" entering the first grade and I was experiencing my first year as a principal in Randolph County.

Many things have happened during these twelve years. You have grown and matured physically and educationally from little children to fine young ladies and gentlemen. You have been an involved part of a great social change in our educational system. You have experienced the consolidation of the schools in this section of Randolph County. During your twelve years in school you have seen the voting age lowered to include eighteen-year-olds. Most of your years in school have coincided with the war years in Southeast Asia, which you have seen draw to a close. You have seen great happenings in space exploration and in scientific achievements. You have experienced the great energy crisis and you are now experiencing an unstable economic era. There are many more historic situations of which you have been a part and are a part, perhaps more than any other high school graduating class up to this time.

I am proud to have been associated with you during these years and I shall always cherish the memories. It is very easy to look back at both the good things and the undesirable things, but I must challenge you to resolve to look forward and to continue to strive for the better things in life. You can do this only if you continue to grow in wisdom and continue to prepare yourselves for those times which are still ahead of you.

I wish to congratulate you for reaching the important milestone in life of graduating from high school and I wish to extend my prayers and best wishes to you as you embark upon the challenges which lie ahead.

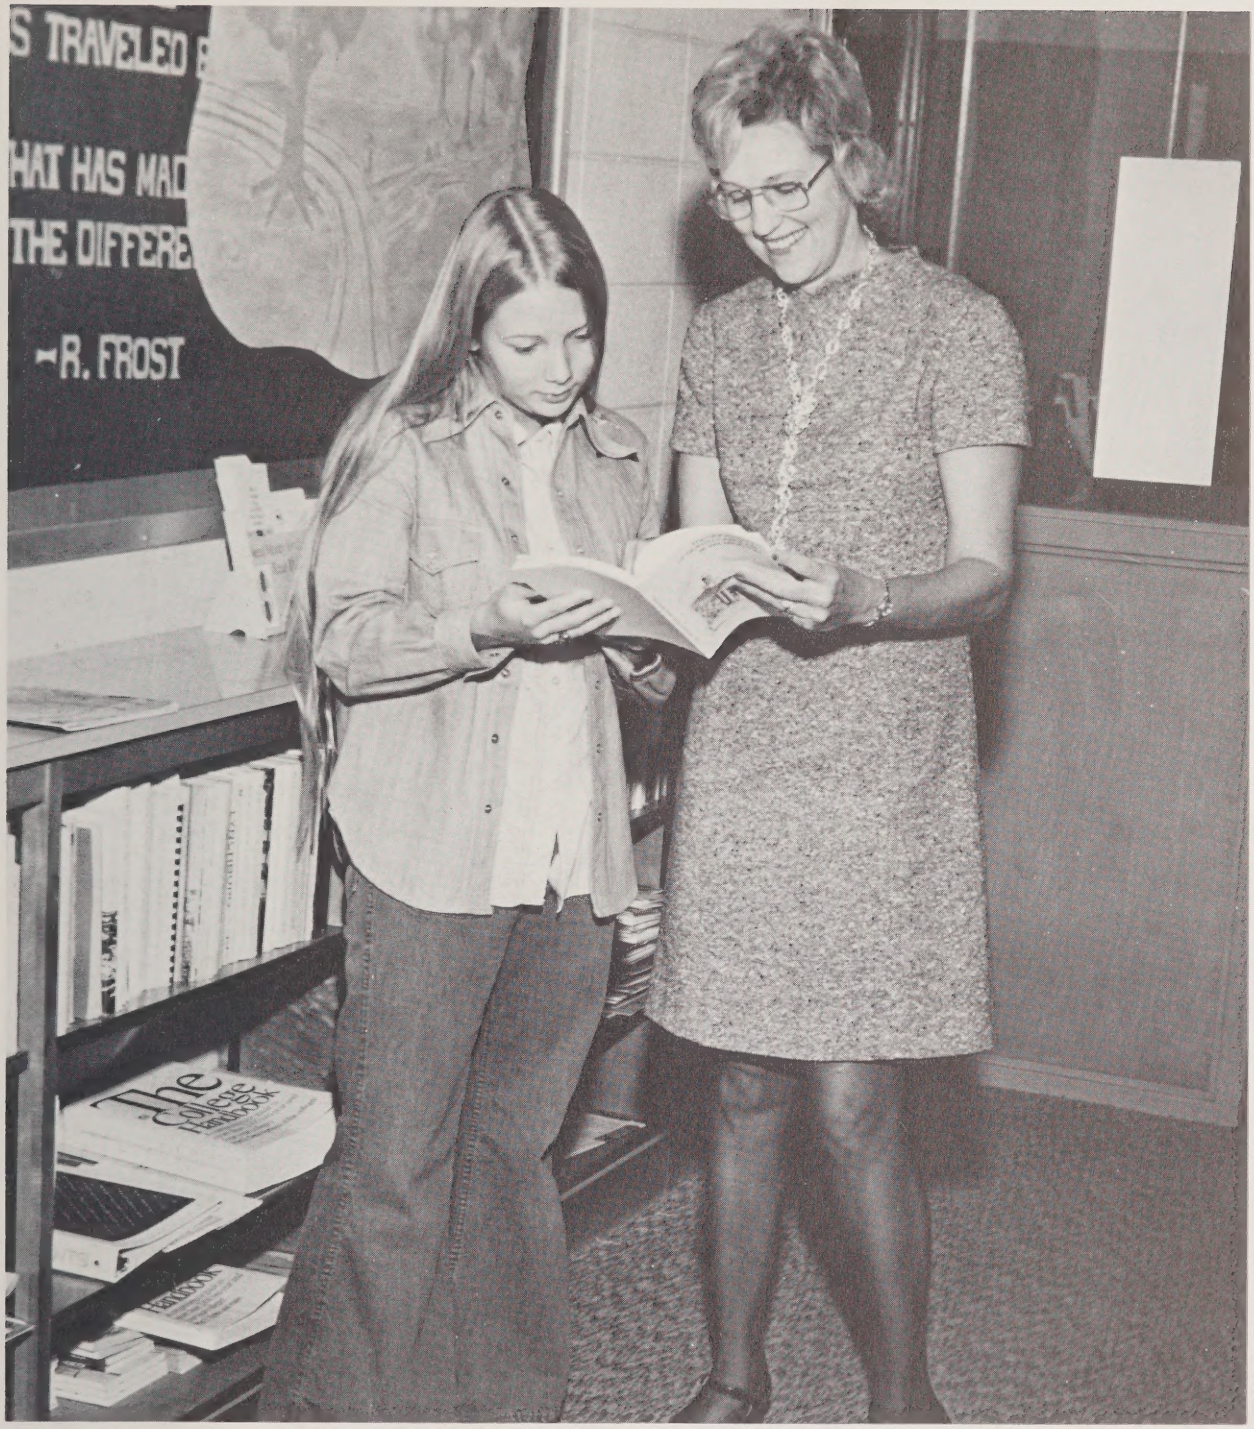
Mr. G. C. Castelloe, Jr.
Principal



ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Mr. Robert W. Allen

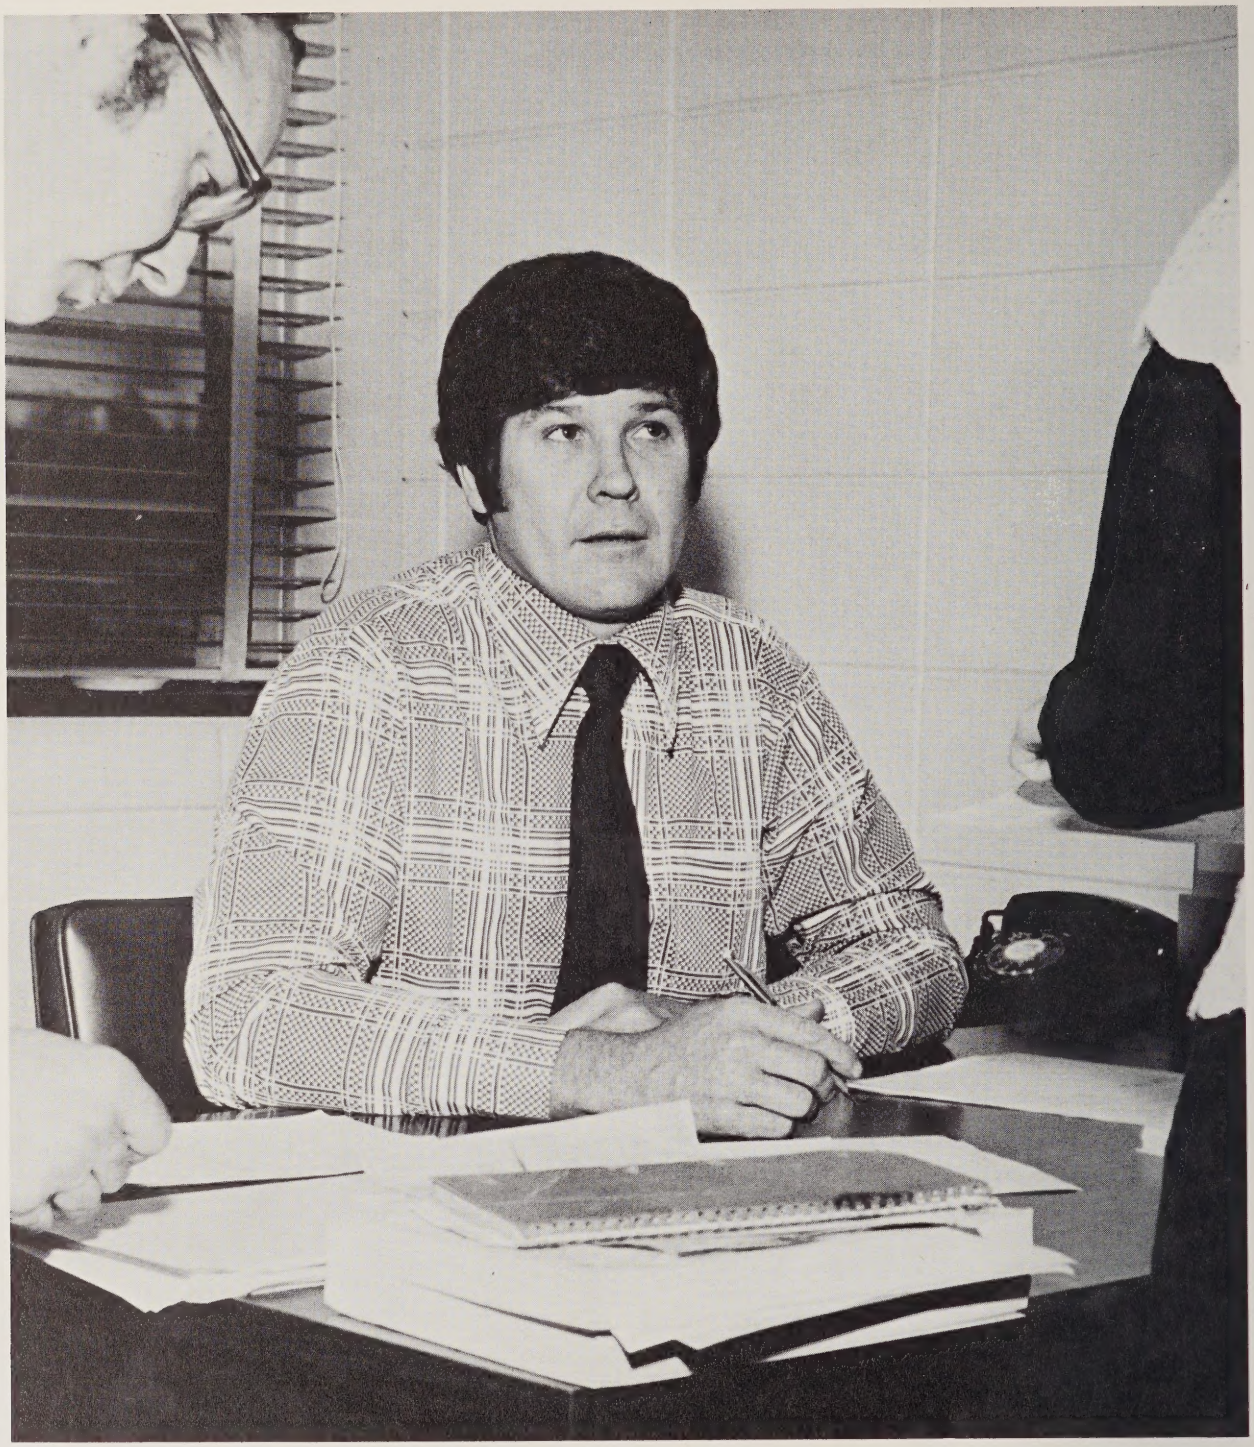
The duties of our Assistant Principal cover various areas. Mr. Allen presides in the absence of the principal. He heads the Candy Sales and Magazine Sales. Serving as advisor of both the Student Government and the Infinity Staff, he is a man whom the students, especially the creators of this annual, could not possibly do without.



GUIDANCE COUNSELOR

Mrs. Wallace Garner

With the advice given by the Guidance Department, we are able to choose directions which will benefit us in our lives. Through the Guidance Counselor, we are better informed of college life and have a means by which we can converse our problems.



I.C.T. COORDINATOR

Mr. Wade Garrett

The Industrial Cooperative Training Coordinator administers the school aspect of the I.C.T. students' training. Mr. Garrett also carries the responsibility of acting as liason between the school and the employer in the on-the-job part of this program.

DAR GOOD CITIZEN

Miss Jo Ellen Hancock

Each year the Randolph County high schools choose one girl to represent them as a candidate for the award for the District DAR Good Citizen. Sponsored by the Daughters of American Revolution, this girl is chosen for her excellent qualities as a good citizen. Among the qualities looked for in this girl are dependability, leadership, service, and patriotism.

The purpose of the Student Government of Southwestern Randolph Senior High School is to promote the general welfare of the school through effective student faculty relationships, to provide opportunities for students to participate in the organization, management, co-ordination, and evaluation of student activities, to develop student responsibility, initiative, and leadership, to promote desirable citizenship training through day by day expression in democratic living, and to afford means through which every student senses his personal worth and responsibility. These duties make the Student Government a vital part of our school.

President's Message

In the spring of 1974, I was elected by my fellow students to serve as your student government president. We began the year's events with the annual homecoming activities which were a big success. As the year progressed, the student government supported the school through participation in sports, school beautification planning, and by serving as an outlet for students' opinions. I would like to note that this year's student government was certainly one of the best groups of people to work with in our school's history. My fellow officers and I feel honored at being elected by you, and we have tried to serve you with the best of our abilities.

As president, I have tried to remain open-minded and helpful when listening to your complaints. There have been times when I wish I could have been more helpful, but I have tried to always aim toward student unity in our school. I have enjoyed serving as Student Government President, and I will always cherish this honor.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English program of Southwestern Randolph Senior High School provides each student with meaningful learning experiences in oral and written communication and in reading selected works of literature.

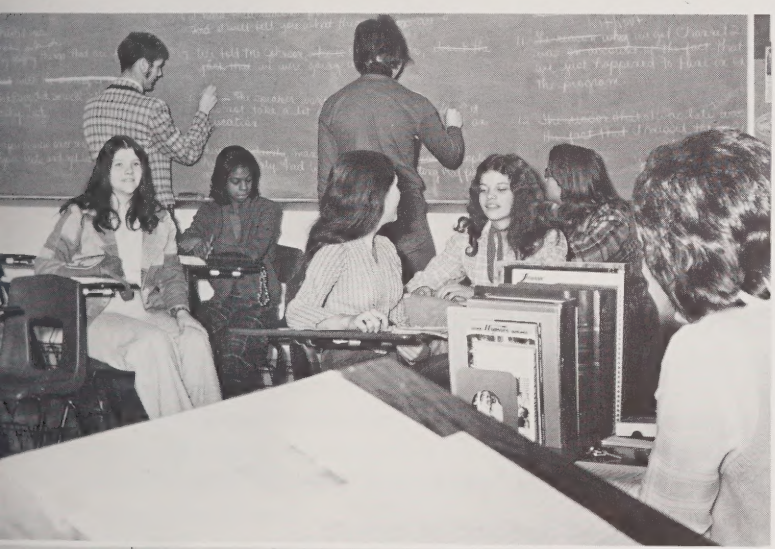
Through our curriculum, students develop skills in reading and interpreting ideas of others and in expressing their own. This involves skills in writing, reading, and speaking.

Through our selection of literature, we develop insights into character and problem solving. These selections help students identify problems.

By identifying student needs and strengths, we can make assignments to meet individual needs.

Through enrichment experiences both in school and in extra-curricular activities, we lead students to a deeper appreciation of the many uses and forms of our language.

Dear Steve,
I have really enjoyed having you as a student. You are a joy to the English. I know the future must hold wonderful things for you.
Mrs. Hilliard



The mood for Mrs. Zenn's room was set by the discussion of: The Canterbury Tales, 1984, H. G. Wells, "Travel in Space," The Prophet, The Divine Comedy speeches, The Dallas Cowboys, and the Washington Redskins.

Sandburg, Twain, The Red Badge of Courage, the Ten Commandments, chronological order, Olympian Gods, and Language Arts all help in creating the atmosphere for Mrs. Gibson's classroom.

Mrs. White set the pace for her students by studies of: "Bluegrass Music," Ballads, Diarys, Autobiographies, footnotes, compositions, poetry, novels, and Creative writing.

Imperative Sentences, Thoreau, Edgar Allen Poe, "a look at the future," "time Tunnel, School Newspaper, Journalism, Adventure and Romance," all set the mood for Mrs. Mills's room.

Mrs. Vicky Smith provided discussions on: Greek Mythology, Zeus, Pandora, Romeo and Juliet, Hamlet, Shakespeare, biographies, footnotes, and Adventure and Romance.

FRENCH DEPARTMENT

French is a humanity, a source of enrichment, offered to all students of Southwestern Randolph Senior High School. We believe that all students may derive benefit from the study of the language and culture of another country. The study of a foreign language also increases student understanding of his native language and culture. We believe that regardless of ability every student may achieve some level of success and pleasure from the study of French.

We believe that the study of a foreign culture makes students more receptive to the viewpoints of other nations in a world society which must have some mutual and some conflicting interests.

French enriches the lives of its students by opening new doors to factual knowledge, by making them more aware that they are members of a world society, and by giving them a new method of communication.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

The Business Department of Southwestern Randolph Senior High School attempts to provide each individual student the opportunity to grow in knowledge and skills through its well-rounded scope of business-oriented subjects. We want to prepare each student so that he may cope with the business world in which he lives once outside the school environment.

The Business Department offers a varied curriculum to meet individual needs. It seeks to develop skills which will prepare each student to continue his education or go to work in a trade or position of his choice. Employers are concerned with quantity and quality of production; therefore, we must establish standards which meet community business needs.

The Business Department endeavors to keep each student informed about what is happening in the business world through its Future Business Leaders of America activities.

The great variety of community resources helps in enriching the curriculum and in creating a mutual feeling of cooperation between the school and community.

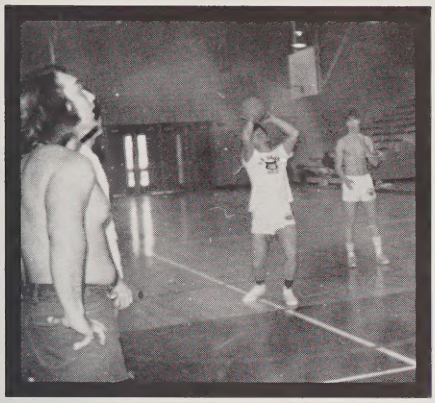
It is our desire to challenge students to continue their education beyond the high school level. We also endeavor to teach students to respect the principles of democracy and to be good citizens.

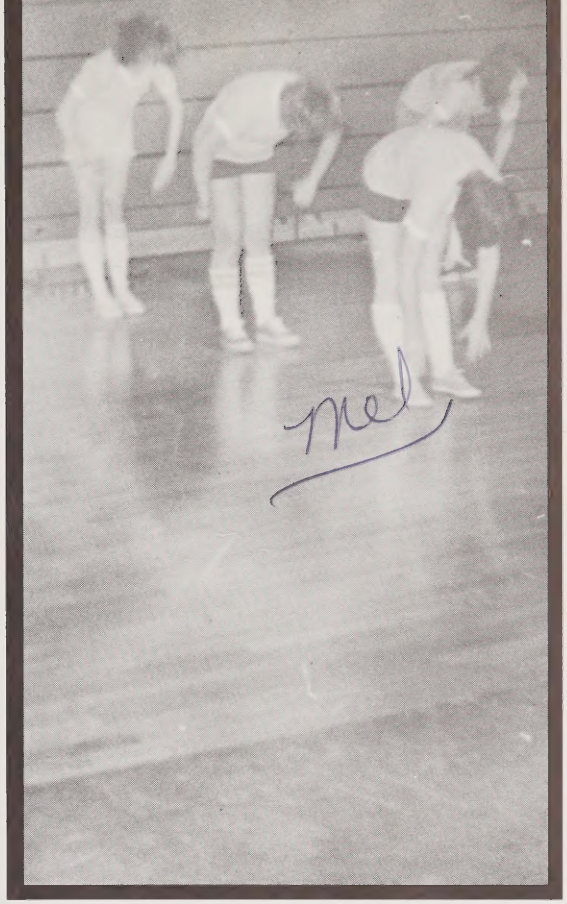
PHYSICAL EDUCATION

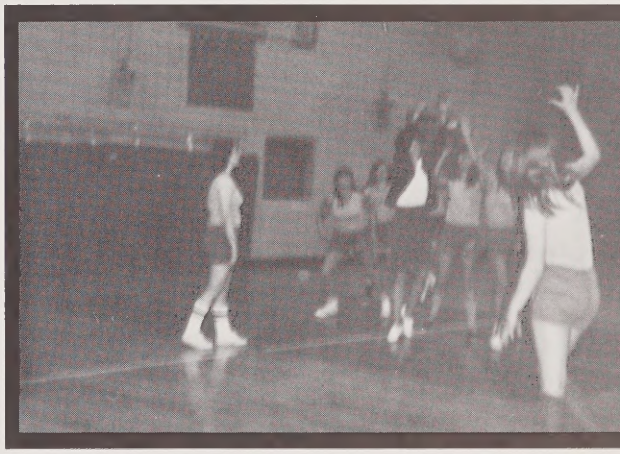
All students should have the opportunity to develop physically, mentally, emotionally, and socially. Physical education should be carried out in such a way that each participant is afforded the opportunity to develop in these areas.

Physical education is more than exercise, more than play, and more than the present. Students should learn to lead; to follow; and to develop a wholesome, positive attitude toward team play and achievement. Also, students should learn games and activities that have a carry-over value for most of their lives, or for many years.

Students should be taught, through physical education, respect for themselves and others, and respect for authority.







ART DEPARTMENT

The Art Department of Southwestern Randolph Senior High School strives to develop in each student an awareness of the world around him.

The department seeks to help each student understand and appreciate art of the present and past.

Through assigning various projects in art, the department teaches the art student various media skills.

The Art Department should provide help and knowledge for the student interested in an art career.

Finally the Art Department seeks to build each student's confidence in himself through projects and displaying his works.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The philosophy of the Science Department is to develop that ever inquiring mind to the extent that questions will be raised, answers will be sought, and hypotheses will be formed and tested.

We strive to provide opportunities that will aid in the acceptance of responsibilities as individuals and as groups.

We try to lead students to develop scientific techniques and criteria for analyzing problems in daily life now and as citizens in an adult world.

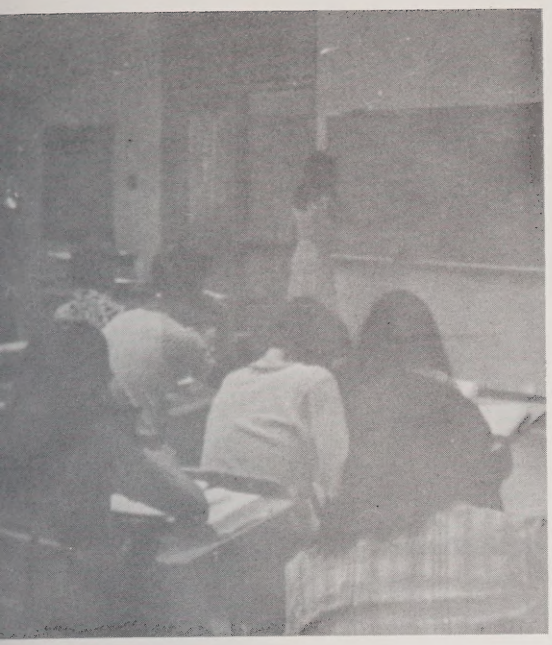
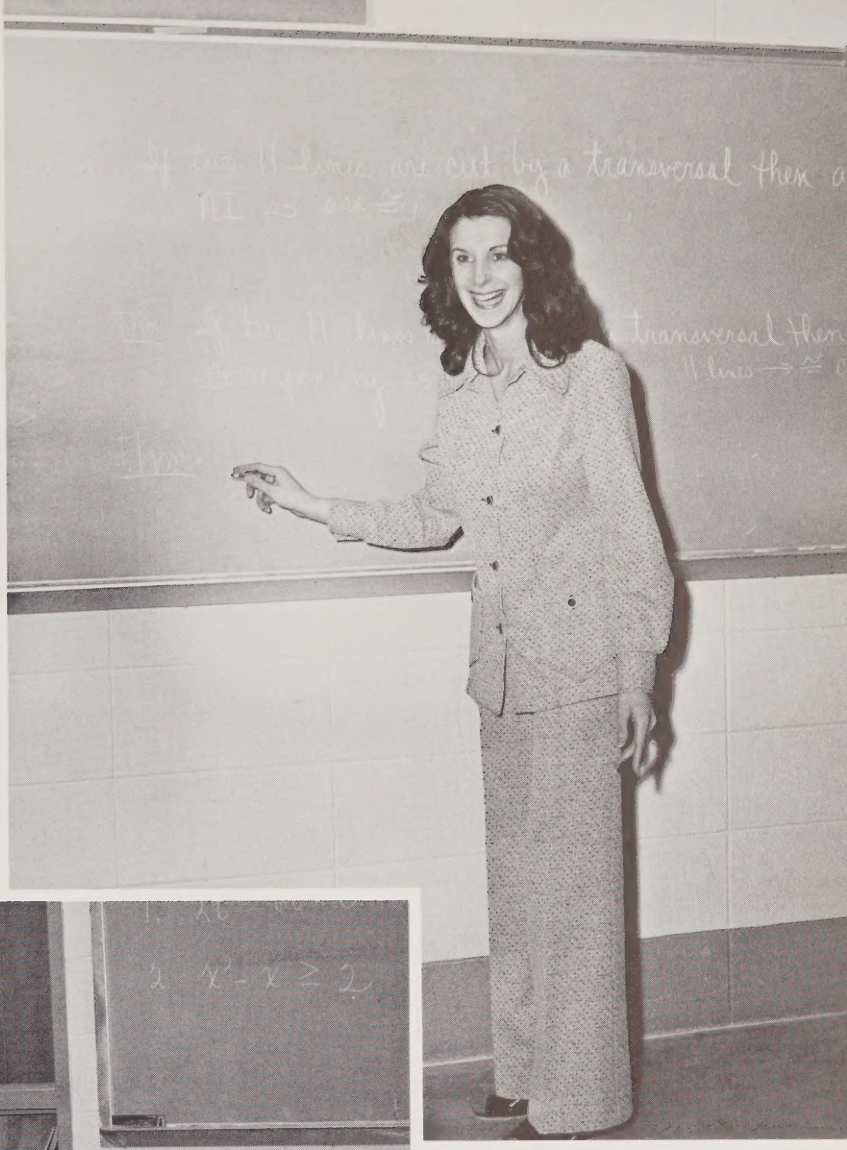
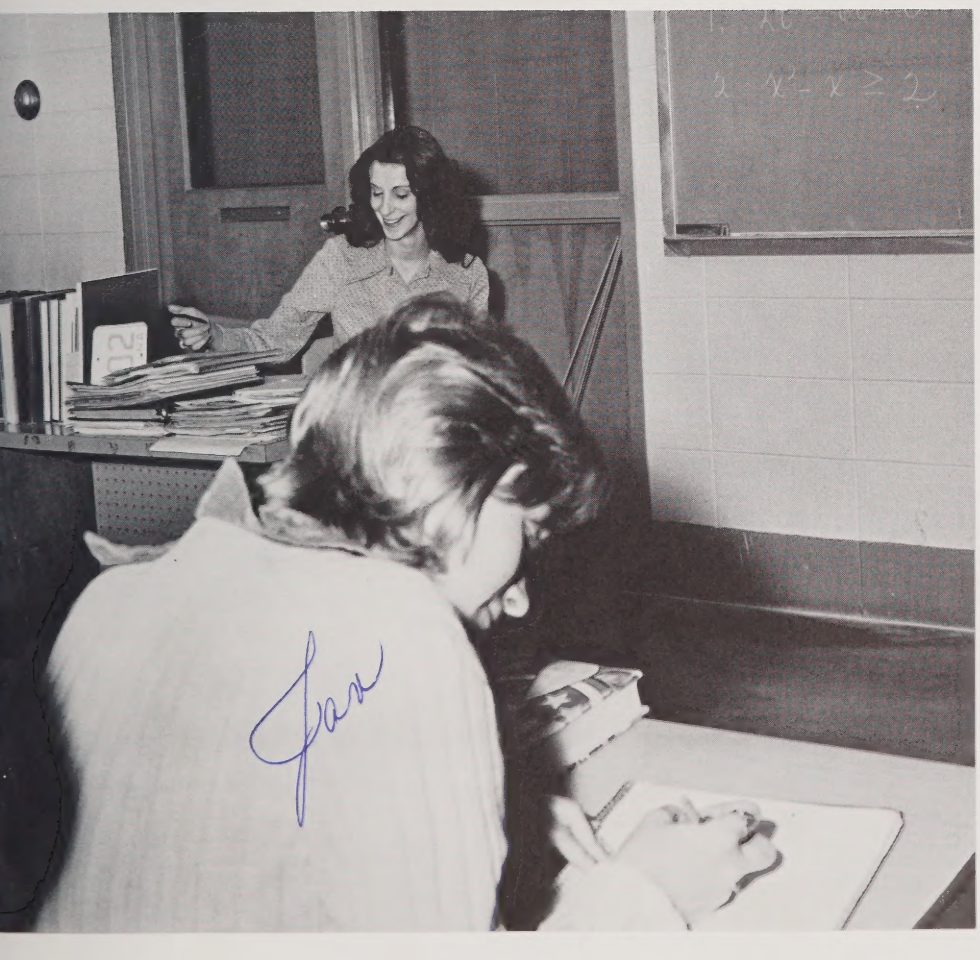
MATH DEPARTMENT

The mathematics program is designed to reinforce and further develop each student's knowledge of and previous experience in mathematics. The student's studies should be useful to him now and following completion of high school. Our goal is to instill an appreciation for the beauty as well as the utility of mathematics. Through proof and application of mathematical principles, we try to help each student learn to think logically and analytically.







Algebra, Geometry, and Advanced Math are all part of the Math Department. Ms. Carter is the main math teacher, with Mr. Hall teaching Algebra I. Students learn about lines, segments, theorems, triangles, complex numbers, and trig functions.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

We believe that the purpose of the Social Studies Department of Southwestern Randolph Senior High School is to help each student understand and appreciate the present by helping him to examine critically and objectively the important economic, political, and social events and movements of the past. It is also our responsibility to help make each student aware of his present environment by examining analytically and critically contemporary, social, religious, economic, cultural and political phenomena. It is hoped that our program will make each student aware of the importance of responsible citizenship and also help the student assimilate useful knowledge needed for successful living in our democratic society.

The Social Studies Department offers mini courses in series of nine weeks per each course. These studies offer a varied form of interest for each student. From the study of "Great Religions" to the course "Home Sweet Home," each individual is allowed to choose the class which interests him the most.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Music plays a vital part in the life of every human being. The Music Department of Southwestern Randolph Senior High School provides a curriculum which seeks to develop a student's musical ability and appreciation to the fullest. Music is a joy that can be experienced and expressed by all. We strive to develop this joy, to give the student an interest that will enrich his life and that of others around him, to increase his self-confidence and contribute to his sense of identity, and to make his life more satisfying. The music program strives to provide the very best in musical experiences for the school and community.

THE BAND PLAYS ON —

Although this is the first year for our band at Southwestern Randolph, they have become a welcome addition to our sports activities and are enjoyed by all. The Southwestern Randolph Band is under the direction of Mr. Kent Duffield.

HOME EC. DEPARTMENT

The Home Economics Department at Southwestern Randolph Senior High School seeks to provide an atmosphere conducive to the acceptance, growth, and development of each student and to help him live successfully with himself in his environment.

The home economics program is designed to provide instruction that enables the student to gain useful knowledge and skills, and to develop positive attitudes and appreciations for homemaking and occupations related to home economics.

The Home Economics Classes are taught by Miss Molloman who helps with activities such as sewing, cooking, child development, housing and other home making projects. This course is offered to girls who plan their future around the home.

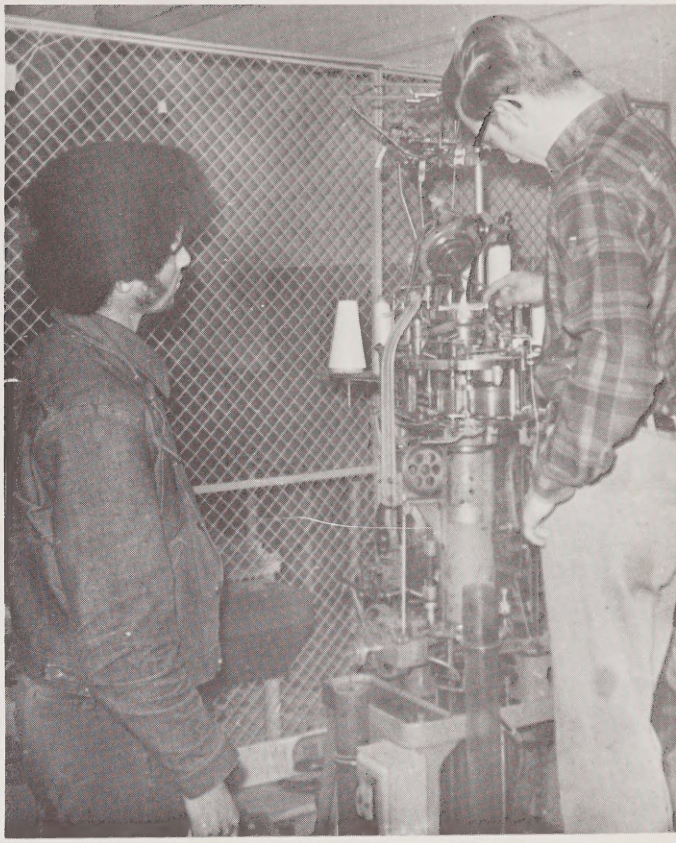
CARPENTRY

At the beginning of the 1974-1975 school year, a new course, Carpentry, was added to our vocational department.

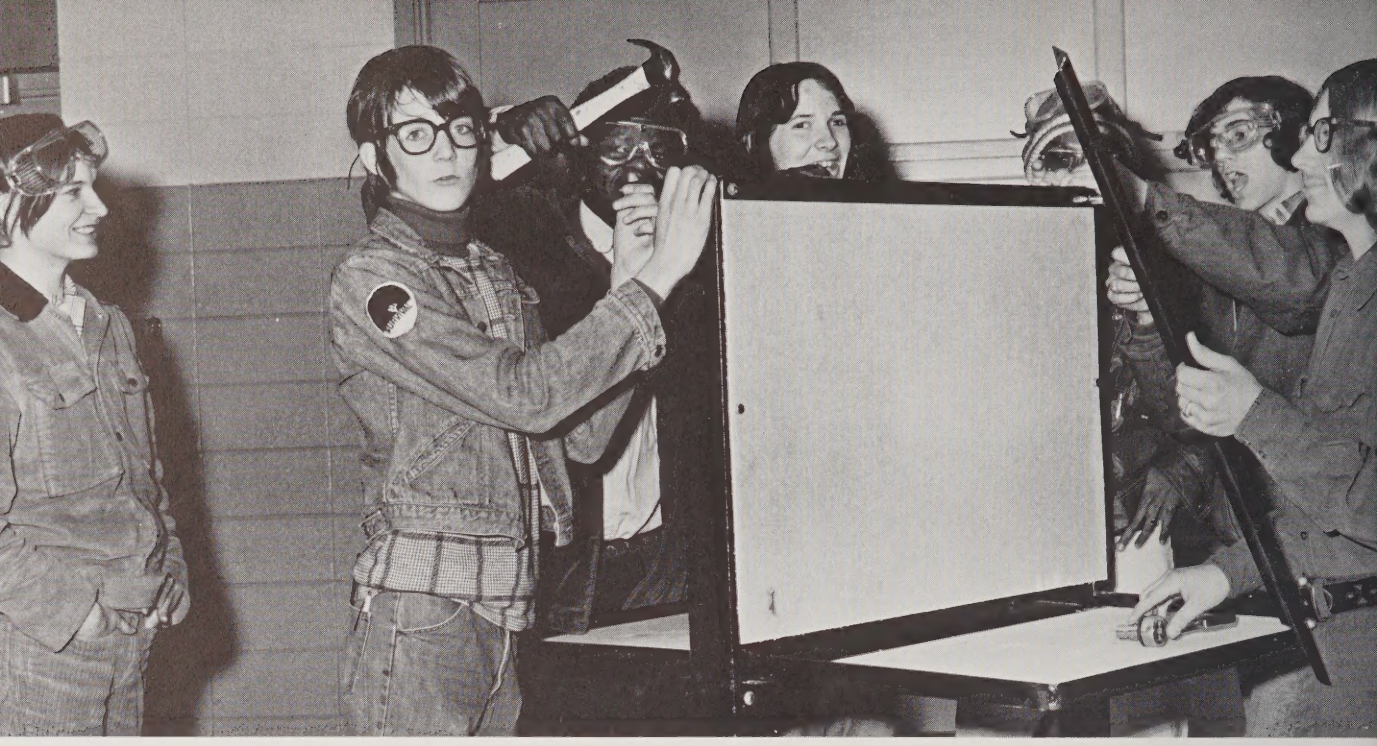
Carpentry involves working with wood. Wood is a fascinating and satisfying skilled activity and is the most abundant of all the industrial materials. It is ideal for projects in the school industrial laboratory or in the home workshop. A person who is skilled in using woodworking tools is limited only by his ability to follow instructions, his imagination, and his desire to build. Skill in woodworking will help you to perform many worthwhile jobs in and around the house. Doing your own work and knowing that it has been done properly is very rewarding.

This new course has been well accepted by students and is a great asset to our program.

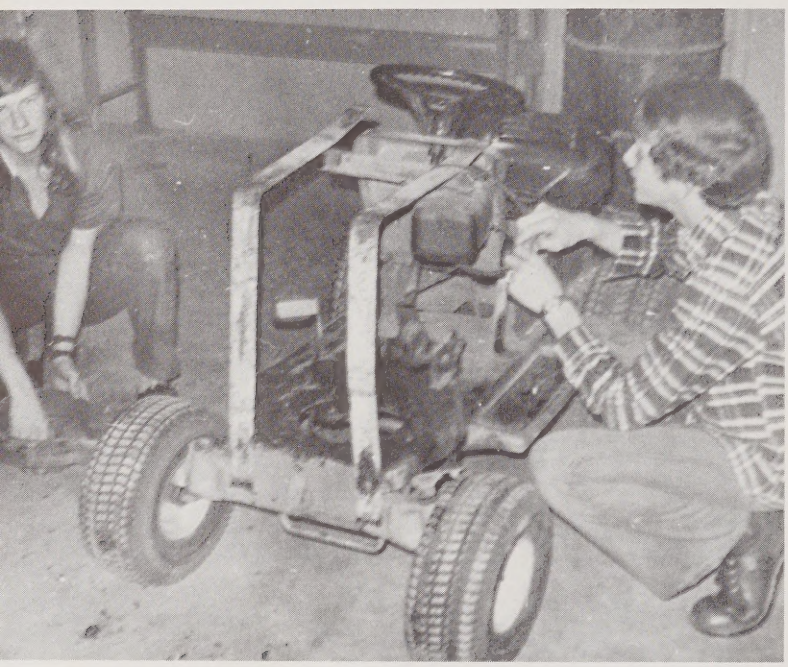
TEXTILES



The Textiles courses are designed to further develop competencies to enable students to acquire better jobs in the textile field and thereby earn better livings for themselves and their families. This course attempts to build character and instill in the students a sense of fairness toward their future employers and fellow workers.



AGRICULTURE



This course is designed primarily for juniors and seniors interested in agricultural mechanics. It enables students to develop an understanding of the basic principles of gasoline engines. This involves classwork and shopwork on small gasoline engines. The course includes units on horsepower, operation and adjustment of major accessories, operation and safety, and storage.

BRICKLAYING DEPARTMENT

Bricklaying provides an activity approach to learning. Students learn about technology through direct learning activities which are meaningful to them. The course gives each student an opportunity to progress as rapidly and as ability and interest allow. Provision is made for the study of fundamental tools, materials, and equipment.

INDUSTRIAL COOPERATIVE TRAINING

The technical related program of study in Industrial Cooperative Training prepares the student to function at an acceptable level in his chosen trade or occupation. This area of instruction is taught on an individual basis using study guides, tests and trade journals which have been prepared for most of the approved occupations. The individually supervised method of study enables the student to learn in accordance with his needs, abilities and interests on a wide variety of jobs. An effort is made to correlate the technical instruction as closely as possible with the operations performed in the student's job.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

DRIVER EDUCATION

Mr. Robert Brewer

It is the purpose of this staff to teach Driver and Safety Education to each student desiring this course in the Southwestern Randolph School area. In this course we teach the basic techniques of operating a car, but more importantly we want to instill a sense of tremendous responsibility each time the student takes the wheel. We strive to develop each student's attitude and skills to the point where each will become an expert driver.

This course is divided into two phases: (1) classroom instruction and (2) practice driving. Classroom instruction includes the correct procedures of driving with safety and mechanical experiences before the student begins to manipulate the controls. It is our desire to acclimatize each student before he ever takes the wheel.

In practice driving two thirds of each student's time is spent in observing while one third of his time is used for actual driving. This phase of the course includes teacher demonstrations of each driving skill. Each student will then begin under simple conditions and progress until he has mastered to the best of his ability the following: (1) fundamental driving skills, (2) how to meet traffic situations successfully, and (3) how to take care of themselves, their passengers, and their car under adverse and emergency conditions.

In the month of February, members of the Senior class were asked to bring children who would be eligible to start school in the Southwestern Randolph district next year.

The Seniors were then asked to vote for both a boy and girl that they felt would make the best mascots. After the votes were counted, it was announced that the mascots for the graduating class of '75 were Tonia Miller and Brian Brown. The Senior class would like to give our sincere congratulations and appreciation to them.

Being on the Infinity Staff required three things from each member: time, patience, and organization.

The time we used was our study hall time and any other time we could get out of class and work on the annual!

The patience was needed for the times the photographer would come and everyone would run up to us and say "Who's next? When will this club get their picture taken?" More patience was needed when fellow classmates would come up to us two or three times a day and ask when we would get our annuals back. (This was before it was even sent off!)

The organization was required for deadlines to be met and to equalize the work load among staff members.

We all enjoyed putting these three things in practice, because we hope that each student and teacher at Southwestern will remember from this issue, "the way we were".

FAREWELL TO THE SENIORS —

As another year draws to an end, we of the Junior Class are experiencing a feeling we have never known before. These are mixed feelings of nostalgia and happiness. We are happy that you the Seniors have successfully reached this milestone in your life; however, we remember "the way we were" and feel a sense of sadness.

We remember "the way we were" when we first arrived at Southwestern frustrated, confused, "scared," and awed by our new surroundings. We also remember the way you were--kind, helpful, humorous, and always ready to lend a helping hand.

We remember "the way we were" this year as Juniors and how we worked together with our faculty in preparing for the visitation by the Accreditation Committee. We, the Juniors and Seniors, felt relief and joy when their report was very favorable. We remember our friendly spirit of competition during our Homecoming activities and the good time everyone had at the dance greeting those who had already graduated and returned for this occasion.

We remember "the way we were" as spring approached and the time for the Junior-Senior Prom drew near. We wanted our prom to be the best because we knew we were honoring you, some of the best friends we have ever known.

As you are leaving, we hope you will look back over these years and "the way we were" with pleasant memories. Each member of the Junior Class wishes for each Senior a happy, prosperous, and long life.

Steve,
Believe me, it's been great knowing you all these years that I have. It was fun working with you on the annual, your a good worker! I appreciate all of your help! I have found you to be a great boy! I wish much happiness and success in the future to a deserving person.
A friend forever,
Jo Ellen

— FROM THE EDITORS

Brand new Seniors! Harried teachers and puzzled students! Our first computerized schedules and immediately we were plunged into a frienzied campaign to ready Southwestern Randolph High School for accreditation. We were very proud of our school when the Southern Association Visiting Committee arrived to evaluate us.

At athletic events, we were elated over the victorious ones and dejected over the lost ones. The newly formed Band and Color-Guard aroused more spirit at the numerous activities.

All of the usual highlights of our school years were eagerly anticipated; homecoming, candy sales, selection of mascots, the Junior-Senior Prom, and finally Graduation!

The Senior class looks back with pride on its accomplishments and we wish to thank each student for his part in making the school what it is now and what it hopes to become.

The Infinity staff of 1974-1975 has captured in this publication most of the highlights of our school years, the good times as well as the bad ones, for you to remember the way we were.

We must not forget that the things we do now will someday truly become "The Way We Were".

As we come to the end of our senior year, we realize that the time has come to say goodbye to friends, classmates, and teachers, but with the help of this yearbook we will be able to look back and remember "The Way We Were".

Steve,
Hmmm, you all these yrs. has been a pleasurable experience only wish you weren't leaving. I'm really going to miss you around here. May God bless you in all you do. And Good luck at STATE.
Your friend always,
Mylanie
Scott

P.S. Come to see us when you're home.

Steve,
you're one of the
cest and nicest persons
I have ever met. thanks for taking Pam and me home so much. Best of Luck at State

Love
Forever,
Doreen

Steve,

I have really enjoyed going to school with you these past years. Your a real friend.
I hope you have a good time at Moo U next year. I hope I'll see you and your fellow dung shovelers that I know in the next four years. Good Luck always.
I know you'll go far.

Steve
It has great knowing you the past 12 years. We have had a lot of fun picking at each other the pass few years. You are a great guy and a good friend. Best of lucke at State no. 2 next year.
Keep in touch your
S.M.F.R.B.

a friend always,
Lonnie

Steve,
. What a friend you have been to me through these past twelve years.
My will always remember you and the times we've had together with fond memories. I wish the best for you as you head for State NEXT YEAR. Good-luck

Steve,
It's really been one hell of a time these past years. Trying to put up with your jokes & poems. But that's Beside the point. You're one great guy. Good Luck;

Steve,

It's been great helping you fight off the "stupid" Carolina fans during the past several years. But even you know that Duke (Dook) is really the best. You've been a great friend and I wish you a lot of luck at State. If you have time, write me a letter or two at High Point.

A friend Always,
Danny Auman

Steve

Well even though you're going to State you're still a cool guy. You know Staley if we didn't raise so much hell we might have learnt something. Staley don't work to hard driving a tractor or milking cows next year at NCSU. Good luck you're a good friend

Best Wishes
Ricky Miller

P.S. Steve don't dare join the NCSU sux Club!

How MANY times did UNC beat NCSU. this year.

Steven!
Well, the annuals are good even though it took them d--- long enough to get here! You are truely a great guy and it's been fun having you as a friend. Thanks for helping me in math. Im hopeless! (in math that is) Everybody has there own things. Math is NOT mine.
Try to behave & have a good time at ... what's the name of that place ... ?? ... Oh well anyway, you're going to ... & will see you at the ball games.
remember me

Love Pam (ray)

UNC TAR HEELS NO 1

Well Staley,

we have been through Thick & Thin; But I'll have to admit that you take the thick part without Complaint. You are a super guy & Have done much for S.W.P. Since I'll Be seeing you for at least another 4 years, Maybe I can keep you straight (somewhat). It seems only yesterday, you were one of those kids fresh out of "Lesters Leaners" (or something - whatever it was). I'll always remember the good times & our common support of the K.K.K. Take care of yourself & that little yellow car. Maybe I won't have to pull you in this summer. Have fun this summer at the shin, & I'll look forward to seeing you & Rob at N.C. State this fall.

Always,
Eddie Ryan

P.S. Let's keep things under control at the beach - now.

Steve,
It's been great knowing you these past 3 years although it really seems like it's been much longer. Be Good and Best wishes at whatever you go at in life

Remember
Always,
Dennis
Reeder

Steve,
It's been a great pleasure knowing you and having you as a friend. I'm sure you'll make out fine in whatever you do. Keep your sunny disposition and you'll be a success in life. Always remember your friends and the Beach.

Jane, Judy

Steve

I'm sorry I had to leave you up here. But you know how it is. I really enjoyed all our campouts and every thing. We had a lot of fun. Good luck at what ever you do.

N.C. State forever

Mark Kuell

Steve,
It's been great knowing such a crazy person. I know you'll go far in life & at State. Good luck at law school & don't close forget this little girl - okay.

Steve)

Kay Sellers

Steve,
It has really been fun knowing yen these many (?) years of school. You're always ready with a smile for me or anybody else. Don't forget Adv. Comp., SWR, or me. Good luck & best wishes at State next year to a wonderful guy.

Love,

STEVE,

It's really been fun knowing you this year and participating in Beta activities. you're fun to talk to and to be around cause of your great sense of humor and your great personality. We've had some good times like the Convention in Asheville and a bunch of other good things along with the bad. If I ever needed a person to talk to you were always there ready to

Steve

Steve,
I hope that life will always be good to you because you deserve it, even though you are a State fan. The memories I have of these past 11 years I will always treasure you are a wonderful person and great friend. In the years to come I hope that you will remember me and. Good luck and best wishes
